

FIFTEEN RECEIVE DIPLOMAS

Forty-first Annual Commencement of the Oregon High School—A Large Class.

The fifteen candidates for graduation from the Oregon High School on Thursday evening last, May 13, while not as large as the class of 1918, it is large than that of last year and was a memorable event to the school history, to the splendid class and to the community. The splendid class of bright young men and women was at its best and the large audience that greeted them at the school auditorium, put the class to its highest expectancy, nor were their anticipations unrealized. They have had a year of splendid instruction, under a corps of strong capable instructors, and Prof. Ford and his aids are to be congratulated on the work done by them and under their teaching they will go out with an understanding of and a preparation for the duties and opportunities of the hour—out of school life into life's school.

Baccalaureate service was held Sunday, May 9th, at the Methodist church. Dr. M. H. Wilson, head of the department of Philosophy and Ethics of Park College, Parkville, Mo., preached the sermon. His text was, "Follow Thou Me." The keynote of his sermon was that the world needs, as never before, real leaders. He pointed out that especially in the business world, we need men of God. He insisted that members of the class tune their ears to hear the voice of the Great Leader, who is ever ready and willing to give every one just the guidance of which he is in need.

The graduating class play, "You Can Never Tell," by Bernard Shaw, was given Wednesday evening in the Martin Theatre, to a capacity house. This is a pretty heavy play for high schools which have a small number to select, consequently some of the people were not well adapted to their parts. However, the audience seemed to enjoy and appreciate the play. Inez Alkire and Ralph Milne were especially pleasing in their roles of the twins, while Selma Hahn, as Mrs. Clanton and George Polley as William, the waiter, also played their parts exceptionally well.

The home orchestra and some members of the class entertained the audience between acts.

Those in charge are to be commended for the success of a play of this type.

Commencement program was given at the high school auditorium, Thursday evening, May 13th. A very pleasing musical program was given by the Oregon Orchestra and Dr. W. F. Kimball of St. Joseph, who was accompanied on the piano by Raymond Turner of St. Joseph.

The address of the evening was delivered by Dr. John F. Caskey, of St. Joseph. He used for his subject, "Fitting Men for the New Era." He pointed out to his audience the almost miraculous changes which have taken place in the last thirty-five years, in all phases of life, making living conditions so entirely different to those of a few years ago. Further Dr. Caskey called the attention of the graduates to the fact that they were most fortunate to be entering upon the activities of the world at this particular moment. No time could be more auspicious, no class had a better chance to really do things. The world needs dependable young men and women whose strongest asset is a sterling character based on Christianity.

Mr. Ford presented the diplomas, after a short but appropriate talk, in which he pointed out to the class that, since they had appeared upon the stage at such an auspicious time and had taken unusual advantage of their opportunities thus far, much more was expected of them than of those less fortunate. He appealed to them to live such lives that their friends here would always be proud to say "He or she was graduated from Oregon High School."

Tuesday evening the 8th grade presented their class play, "Mrs. Briggs of the Poultry Yard," and was a most pleasing comedy, each character being well sustained by the class members, and much amateur talent was shown. Mrs. W. T. Walker gave a vocal solo, which was enjoyed by her hearers, and she is ever generous with her splendid talent. The school auditorium was filled to its capacity. Prof. Ford presented the promotion diplomas to the following: who will begin their high school work in September, 1920: Thelma Louise Hodgins, Carrie Frances Zeller, Dorothy Bunker, Lucille Bucher, Maudine Cook, Pearl Parsons, Gladys Earhart, Carl Corwin Headley, Joyce J. Hinde, Donald W. Bunker, Max Tochtermann.

The colored school held their closing exercises at their church Saturday evening. There was but one graduate, Jaunetta Stith. The address was delivered by their pastor, Rev. Redd, and was an excellent one. The teacher this year was Miss Eva Johnson, and she has made good every way as a teacher.

The People Rule.

Realizing that the revenues of the county are not sufficient to build and keep in the best of repairs its bridges and culverts, and the demand constantly being made for new ones, our excellent county court, conceived the idea of submitting to the voters of the county the proposition to vote an additional levy of 50 cents on the $100 valuation for the period of three years and the revenue derived therefrom annually to be expended in each township on the basis of taxable valuation. A table showing the valuation of each township and the amount of tax that would be derived was carefully prepared by County Clerk Kunkel, which was published gratuitously by every paper in the county in order to inform the tax payers just what amount would be expended for this purpose in each township annually for three years. These figures were:

	Valuation	Tax
Clay	$1,630,633.00	$8,153.17
Hickory	945,716.00	4,728.58
Nodaway	636,555.00	3,182.78
Norfolk	584,204.00	2,921.02
Liberty	1,418,895.00	7,094.48
Benton	2,055,327.00	10,276.64
Lewis	1,544,102.00	7,720.51
Lincoln	579,084.00	2,895.42
Union	1,245,007.00	6,225.04
Minton	519,911.00	2,599.56
Forest	700,948.00	3,504.74
Holt	614,676.00	3,073.38

Total, $12,475,058.00 $62,376.32

The proposition was overwhelmingly defeated by a nearly three to one vote. We attribute its defeat largely to the fact of the heavy burden of taxation that is now prevailing, and the discouraging conditions of the farmer both as to prices of his products and the labor question. We are today living in an age when everything from the cradle to the grave is taxed, and the farmer as a rule voted against the proposition.

To emphasize this point we only have to cite consolidated school district which is carrying a total tax of $3.50 on the $100 valuation.

Strange as it may seem Minton township with the smallest valuation and Lewis township with the third largest valuation voted in favor of the proposition.

The vote means that the people of Holt county are dead set against any proposition that will in any way increase their already heavy tax burdens.

In 1916 Holt county cast a total of 3653 and on Friday last, when the question of taxation, something affecting directly their pocket books, only 1285 voters went to the polls to register their approval or disapproval.

April Deaths.

The death roll in Holt county shows a total of only 9, the smallest of any month thus far during the present year. The largest was 31 in February. Thus far for the first four months of the year the total reaches 72, the largest ever recorded here. There were seven males and two females. The average age of the males was 72½ years and of the females 35½ years. The oldest person to die was Nicholas Merrill, of Craig, at the age of 89.

The following is the list of deaths during the month of April here in Holt and abroad:

Cummins, Cora M., Chicago, April 4, age 55.
Clark, Geraldine N., Norfolk, Neb., April 25, age 22.
Duncan, J. B. (Bun) in St. Joseph April 17, age 80.
Guthrie, Jas., veteran, April 5, age 77.
Edwards, Haden, in St. Joseph April 24, age 88.
Fletcher, Mrs. Geo. A., Anadarko, Okla., April 28, age 64.
Hawkins, Mrs. Norman, Hastings, Neb., April 3, age 52.
Haynes, Mrs. W. E. in St. Joseph, April 22, age 41.
Markland, Fred, April 18, age 59.
Money, Mrs. Clyde, April 19, age 24.
McCoy, Cad in St. Joseph April 28, age 79.
Merrill, Nicholas, April 26, age 89.
Parsons Charles, April 29, age 49.
Shepard, Mrs. Minnie, April 10, age 47.
Sommer, Godfried, April 27, age 68.
Thomas, Mrs. T. D., Chicago, April 10, age 58.
VanVickle, Andrew, April 3, age 80.
Wetzel, Frederick, April 19, age 83.

The First Time.

Judge W. J. Randall of Craig has been here this week, watching the court, and he has been taking everybody he meets over to the park and leaning up against a tree and tells them with the air of a king that he is now 72 years old and for the first time in his life he has arrived at the station known as "grandpa." His daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Drewes, presented him with a grandson May 3. While he is a Democrat of the old school he says that grandson is a half and half Democrat and Republican, but he will put in his best ticks to make him a full fledged Democrat.

—E. S. Coston, of Skidmore, was in Oregon on business, Wednesday of this week.

A SHOCKING DEATH

Mrs. Geo. V. Hinkle, of Forest City, Is Killed by Explosion of Dynamite.

One of the most shocking accidents ever recorded in the history of our county occurred Monday morning, May 17th, about 9 o'clock, at the home of George V. Hinkle, about one mile northeast of Forest City, which was caused by the explosion of some dynamite which was stored in the garage causing the death of his dear young wife, and which has brought deep sorrow to the hearts of a large circle of friends, for no one who knew Hortense Hinkle, that did not love her.

Mr. Hinkle and wife were preparing to go to Forest City and with their little two year old daughter, Ruth, had gone to their garage, and found the engine of the car was working on the three cylinders. Mrs. Hinkle and Ruth were in the car, and Mrs. Hinkle was cleaning one of the coils. Realizing that it would take some little time to get the car working, he took his child out and took her to the home yard, some sixteen feet away, to let her play with the little chicks, while working on the car.

Both Mr. Hinkle and the child were at the gate and he was placing her on the ground and was in the act of returning to the garage when a terrific explosion greeted his hearing.

The force of the explosion was so terrific as to utterly destroy the garage, blowing off its shingled roof and hurling his dear wife, he had left only a minute before, out against the yard fence only some ten feet away. Had the explosion occurred less than one minute later Mr. Hinkle would have been back in the garage at work on his car, and likely he too would have been killed.

Mr. Hinkle rushed to his wife and picked her up, taking her to the house, and she expired in his arms. Who could imagine the grief of this heart-broken husband.

When Mr. Hinkle left the garage Beeler Fitzmaurice was in the garage assisting on the car, and evidently stepped to the garage door and was shoved considerable distance outside by the force of the concussion, and he received several minor injuries.

The explosion is believed due to the fact that in the garage and within some three feet of the car, was some 9 1-3 pounds of dynamite and some caps which had been in the garage several weeks. In the lot were five sticks which had been laying there almost three years, and the grease had run out of it, and when in this condition experts regard it as extremely dangerous.

The car also was completely demolished and all but three windows of the residence were blown to pieces. In the house were several thousand dollars worth of choice paintings and hand-painted china, which had been carefully packed preparatory to house cleaning and re-decorating; these were uninjured. Mrs. Hinkle was an art student of some note and had many valuable pieces of her own work.

The garage was built in the side of the hill, the roof projecting just above the crest; the walls were of concrete. Mr. Hinkle has the deep sympathy of us all, not only those who knew him, but those who can realize the sadness that comes in such a sudden taking off of such a beautiful character as his dear young wife.

Hortense Ruth, daughter of John R. and Eliza Simpson, was born near Oregon September 14, 1893, and grew to young womanhood among us, attending the Oregon school. When a mere child she exhibited talent for art, and she developed into the art of painting, giving special efforts in china painting as well as landscape work, and her walls were richly decorated in her own work, their value being up to several thousand. She loved the beautiful, and made it her study to make her home in the truest sense the dearest spot on earth, not for herself alone but for her husband and child; a place inviting for neighbors and friends, and thus, all who knew Hortense loved her for her many beautiful traits of character.

She became the wife of George V. Hinkle March 20, 1916, and by this marriage two children were born, Ruth Elizabeth, age 2, who with the bereaved husband survive, and a baby boy was born to them June 11, 1919 but died October 25, 1919. Her father died when she was a mere child and her mother died October 28, 1915.

She had been a member of the Christian church from early girlhood, and the funeral services were conducted from the Forest City Christian church by Elder Jewell Howard of Mound City, on Wednesday, May 19th and the burial was in beautiful Maple Grove at Oregon.

The Past and Present.

Veterans of all American wars will join with Meyer Post, G. A. R., in celebrating Memorial Day, Sunday, May 23, 1920, and Decoration Day, Monday, May 31, in Oregon, and all veterans of the Civil War, the Spanish-American War and the World War, and Sons of Veterans, will unite in observing these days, and official orders will be found elsewhere in this issue. It is to be hoped all will answer the call. The Business Men's band of Oregon will lead the procession to the cemetery, May 31, where the ritualistic exercises of the G. A. R. will be observed.

A committee of ladies has been named, which will be found in the official orders, to assist in preparing such flowers as may be furnished. If your name is in the list, be sure and answer for duty.

—The ladies of the Chrysanthemum Society will have Blooming Plants on sale at the Variety Store, the latter part of this week. Save your orders for them.

Circuit Court.

The May term of our circuit court began Monday, Judge Barnes being on the spot ready to start the "mills of the gods" to grinding, and he found Circuit Clerk Dunham, Sheriff Crouser and Deputy Seeman had everything in readiness, thereby causing no delays.

The parole cases of Earl Randall, Bert Stuart and Dave Adams were continued. The state vs. Jesse Chesney, charged with felonious assault, was continued at cost of defendant.

State vs. J. C. Russell, charged from Farmers Elevator Co., of Forest City, who was found guilty at the October, 1919, term and given two years, was refused a new trial.

The state vs. Carter charged with being an accessory to embezzlement in the above case, the defendant filed motion for change of venue, which was refused and the cause set for hearing June 1.

The state dismissed a case against John King charged with keeping gambling house. It also dismissed its case against Alf Kunkel charged with assault.

In the case of Crider vs. Crider, the court allowed the plaintiff, Emma Crider, $125 a month from April 13 and $375 attorney fees.

The jury is composed of the following:

The first jury case called was that of Willard P. Meyer vs. James Garrett. It was a suit for damages growing out of the defendant permitting his hedge to grow to such proportions as to shade plaintiff's land and preventing him from raising crops on some four acres. The case went to a jury that gave a verdict for the plaintiff in the sum of $115.

Alva J. Cox vs. Theodore E. Hodgins was a suit for commission to the amount of $260 for selling some land Nodaway county. A change of venue was granted to Atchison county. E. D. Shellenberger vs. Wm. P. Hill was a replevin suit. It was sent to Atchison county on change of venue. The jury was excused until this Friday morning.

Iden Wins Suit.

An interesting suit was recently decided in the Kansas City Court of Appeals in which Jno. F. Iden of the Big Lake section was the defendant.

The title of the case was the state of Missouri, Ex. Rel. A. M. Tibbels, prosecuting attorney vs. Jno. F. Iden. Iden had put in a concrete dam on the lower end of Big Lake, below the James Rhodes place on the advice of the deputy game and fish warden, believing it to be for the preservation of the fish in the Big Lake. It was put in three years ago last July. The latter part of June 1919, application was made by the plaintiff, the state, by A. M. Tibbels to the county court of Holt county to enjoin the defendant from keeping up the dam.

In substance the petition alleged that the dam caused the water of the lake to rise to a great height and to back up and overflow lands of adjoining owners, thereby rendering such lands wet and unutilizable, and causing irreparable injury to the owners.

It further alleged that the dam was a public nuisance under the statute relative to "dams for mills and electric power," and asked for a permanent injunction.

The case was first heard in our circuit court at the October 1919 term, and the defendant demurred to the petition on the grounds that the State had no grounds on which to maintain such a suit for private interests; that the statute entitled "Dams for mills and electric power" did not apply in such a case.

The demurrer was sustained and the plaintiff appealed to the Kansas City Court of Appeals, where the case was heard at the March 1920 term, and the action of the trial court was sustained.

This is the first decision handed down in a case of this character. Judge Mayer and Strop of St. Joseph and W. E. Bissett of Mound City represented Iden.

Evangelical Church.

Sunday school next Sunday here in town, but no morning sermon as we will attend the union Memorial service at the M. E. church. Service Sunday night at Nickell's Grove. We are getting interested in our forward movement and we really expect to move forward. Our great finance drive will be here in two weeks and we are getting ready for it. Every service has something of interest. We welcome you.

E. A. PAULI, Pastor.

—Gideon Kunkel and wife, of Anadarko, Okla., are now in St. Joseph visiting their daughter, Dr. and Mrs. W. C. Proud. Next week they will be here for a visit with their son, Albert and family, and from here they will go to Los Angeles, California, to spend the summer with their son, Norman.

SIXTY-NINE RURAL GRADUATES

Annual Education Fete Day at Bigelow An Inspiring Success.

After a week of damp cloudy weather, Friday, May 14, 1920, dawned beautiful and clear and oh, how welcome to everyone was the glorious sunshine. Promptly at ten o'clock in the beautiful little high school building belonging to Consolidated District No. 2 at Bigelow, which was packed to its utmost capacity, began the program which was to mark the close of another successful school year in our county.

The sweet soprano voices of the children joined the mature voices of the adults, a most harmonious chorus, in the patriotic singing of America, and after the invocation pronounced by Mrs. Jones in her reverent and happy manner everyone saluted the flag, which was held up in front by two little boys.

Miss Smith of Chicago, made a splendid address emphasizing the need of putting more vital energy into our teaching, vitalizing the life of our rural communities.

The Bigelow high school chorus discoursed sweet music which was much enjoyed; the young people under the able leadership of their teacher, Miss Englund, have made great improvement along this line.

The demonstration by the Bigelow Sewing Club came next. This club is made up of the following young ladies: Mary Hinkle, Marie Hunt, Mildred Walker, Jessie Wilson, Margaret McKee, Opal Couts, Vergene Wilson, Lucile Wilson, Dorothy Bridgman, Janie Odell, Mary Overlay and Hazel Connor. Of these, Mildred Walker, Dorothy Bridgman and Lucile Wilson were chosen to be the team to work out the demonstration. One girl put a patch on a large piece of cloth which had been mounted on a frame so that the work could be seen by everyone; while she worked this out, talking as she worked, the others remained seated, patching and darning, their work being smaller and done in the usual way. Then one of the others, with a drawing on the blackboard, illustrated just how a neat darn might be made. The small darn and patch made by the girls at their seats while the larger work was being demonstrated, were passed around in the audience. Needless to say the neat work was much admired.

Then came the roll call of the class of sixty-nine graduates. After filing up to the platform they led in singing the "Battle Hymn of the Republic," which has been our county song for the past year. Mr. Leson of the Maryville Teachers' College ably addressed these young people. At the close of his address each was presented with his diploma or certificate of promotion which entitles him to enter any high school in the state of Missouri. The Chillicothe scholarship goes to Miss Lillian Lease of Fortescue whose papers made the highest average in the final examinations.

Miss Hester Bunker received the gold medal for being the champion speller of the elementary grades in Holt county, and with it was presented to her for her school for this coming year the beautiful silver trophy cup. The other winners in the preliminary spelling contests, Misses Muriel Williams, Mabel Lovelady and Dorothy Nauman, were awarded gold medals for their fine work along this line.

Then followed the dinner prepared by the ladies of Consolidated District No. 2, and served in the Red Cross rooms. And such a dinner! It was truly a sumptuous banquet! Chicken, all kinds of meat, dressing, salads, cakes, pies! Some one estimated that a mereh in the neighborhood of a thousand people were given their dinner.

The entire afternoon was taken up with the County Field and Track Meet. The winners in the seven high school events are as follows:

Pole vault, first place, McCoy of Craig; second place, Osborn of Bigelow; third place, Nauman of Craig.
Basket ball throw, first place, Lucile Wilson of Bigelow; second place, Jessie Wilson of Bigelow; third place, Janey Odell of Bigelow.
Standing broad jump, first place, McCoy of Craig; second place, Peters of Corning; third place, Nauman of Craig.
Running hop, step and jump, first place, McCoy of Craig; second place, Nauman of Craig; third place, Gaffney of Craig.
440 yard dash, first place, James

County School Notes.

The regular Teachers' Examination will be held in Oregon on Friday and Saturday, June 4 and 5. At this same time an examination on the Reading Circle books will be given to those teachers who wish to have their certificates renewed. Before having a certificate renewed two requirements (Section 10942 R. S. L.) must be met: the teacher must have attended the Teachers' Association, and the Reading Circle work must have been done.

The people of our county understand pretty well about the Boys' School of one week at the State Fair at Sedalia. When this school was first established, two boys were allowed to be sent by each county. Our first two boys were Ralph Milne and Byron Murray in 1915. In 1916, Dwight Loucks of Gordon school district and William Reynolds of Brush College school district were the fortunate ones. The next year, the number of boys to go from each county was changed from two to one; so in 1917, Robert Childers of Grossen school district were the fortunate winners; in 1918 it was Russell Glick's good fortune to go, Russell belonged to Blair school district and last summer, Ralph Walker of Cons. Dist. No. 2 attended the school. You will perhaps remember Ralph's splendid write-up of his trip which was published in the county papers last August. We are wondering which of Holt county's fine boys will get to go this summer. A competitive examination will be given on Friday, June 4, at the Oregon High School building. The examination will consist of five questions in arithmetic, five in geography and five in agriculture, besides writing a short essay. The boy making the highest grades will be the one selected to make the trip. Each boy must be between the ages of thirteen and seventeen.

We want our Holt county boy to take this week of pleasure and instruction at the expense of the State Board of Agriculture, that he, as a young man, may become acquainted with the State's wonderful resources and learn something of the best ways to conserve and develop them, and that he may catch the spirit of a great people. The only expense which the boy must pay is the railroad fare to and from Sedalia.

Most of the schools closed last week but a few are closing this week. We wish all the boys and girls of the county as well as their teachers a very happy summer. In speaking of happiness, we would like you to think of it as David Starr Jordan puts it: "Happiness comes from striving, doing, loving, achieving, conquering—always something positive and forceful."

ALBERTA GREEN-MURPHY, County Superintendent.

Those Easter Rain.

The old, old saying that has ever been handed down to us that "If it rains on Easter it is certain to rain seven consecutive Sundays" did not go away this year as it has ever done as a general rule. But twice in the history of this weather station has it rained seven consecutive Sundays including Easter.

In 1858 Easter came on April 4th, and it rained for seven straight Sundays.

In 1868 Easter came April 12, and it rained five Sundays, but not consecutively, these rains came the 1, 4, 5 and 7th Sundays following Easter.

Easter came April 16, 1876, and it rained four straight Sundays.

1879 Easter fell on April 13, and it rained Easter, then the third, fourth and seventh Sunday following.

In 1890 the day came on April 6, and it rained then, the second, sixth and seventh.

The day came March 29, 1891, with rain followed on the third, fourth, sixth and seventh.

In 1900 the day came on April 7, raining on the 7th, 14th and 21st. The Easter rain that year measured 1.22 inches.

Easter, April 4, 1920, there was rain and rain fell April 11, 18 and 25, and May 2, 9, and 16 making seven consecutive Sundays for the year 1920.

That rainfall, carrying out the old saying the second time in the history of the Oregon weather bureau.

New Cashier.

Owing to the death of Milton C. Brumbaugh, a vacancy as cashier of the People's Bank at Maitland was caused, and on the 13th inst. the directors elected H. S. Cook, of the Farmers Exchange Bank at Trenton, Mo., to fill the vacancy, and he expects to enter upon his duties about June 1. He has a wife and two daughters. The Sentinel extends its hearty welcome, although his coming is a sad one by reason of the death of a prince among men.

April Births.

There were an even dozen stork visits in the county during the month of April, and the visits showed partiality to the girls, there being nine girls to three boys. The roll shows the following births:

Andes, Grover and wife, April 9, girl.
Alkire, Harry and wife, April 18, girl.
Bose, Carl and wife, April 27, girl.
Chrisman, Chester and wife, April 2, boy.
Elder, Rich and wife, April 24, boy.
Guilliams, Jno. and wife, April 1, girl.
Guyer, Nold and wife, April 17, girl.
Moedinger, Gottlieb and wife, April 25, girl.
Noellach, Louis and wife, April 9, girl.
Pruseman, Henry and wife, April 13, girl.
Stanton, Ulah, April 16, girl.
Showalter, Ralph and wife, April 14, boy.
